RIVER PUMPED DRY.

J. B. DUKE HONORS HIS BRIDE

Makes 2,000 Acre Park a Fairy Land.

In an effort to make a two thousand acre park look like fairyland with gushing fountains, cascades and beautiful lakes for his bride during their honeymoon, James B. Duke, president of the American Tobacco Company, has pumped the Raritan river at Somerville, N. J., dry. Duke has on his estate artificial lakes covering an area of several hundred acres, besides innumerable fountains and water-falls. These are supplied from the Raritan river by a pumping station.

In honor, of his bride, Duke ordered the fountains to be run at their fullest capacity during their honeymoon.

No Excuse.

A negro baby nursery is to be started in Lexington to enable negro women who want to work to leave their homes. The plan is for the negro women to take their babies to the nursery in the morning and leave them in charge of capable persons while the mothers work. It is an excellent idea. Among those who have to work and want to work have been some who, gave their offspring laudanum or some other anesthetic to keep them quiet in their absence. The establishment of the nursery will provide a most deserving charity, and take away the excuse that many domestics offer for not working.

Auto Goes One Mile In 40 2-5 Seconds.

At Atlantic City, N. J., in a splendid burst of speed, Monte Roberts, in a 120-horse power machine, won the free-for-all race, the chief event in the automobile race meet, making the mile in 40 2-5 seconds, 6 2-5 seconds lower than the record for the time made by Christie last year. F. W. Leland, in a 45-horsepower six-cylinder car, was second in 41 4-5 seconds.

Surprised Him.

F. A. Estes, Wyandotte, Ky., says: "My hogs were so sick they could not eat and they were all scouring very badly. I gave them Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy and to my surprise it cured them without a loss."

DISAPPOINTED !!

IN W. S. TAYLOR'S REFUSAL.

Many Republicans Now Think He Should Be Forced to Return to Stand Trial.

One of the stock arguments of the defendants apprehended in the Goebel murder cases has been that if Taylor and Finley, the former Secretary of State, could be put on the witness stand they would testify to matters that would go far to clear those on trial. It was even sought at one time to use the depositions of these fugitives; Now that Taylor has declined a proposition to come to court under guarantee that he would be returned without arrest to his haven in Indiana, Republicans who feel that Powers has been made to bear burdens that should have been shared by Taylor and Finley, are saying, so rumor here says, that both Taylor and Finley should be made to return to Kentucky for trial. —Frankfort correspondent of Courier-Journal.

Form a Pool.

Thirty tobacco growers who use the Cincinnati markets entered into a pool whereby they will have control of more than 15,000 hogsheads.

This represents about three-fourths of all the tobacco now tied up by the Equity.

By a vote of the shippers present it was decided to formulate an independent organization among the shippers of the Cincinnati markets who had not already turned their product over to the Equity.

Williams' Carbolic Salve With Arnica and Witch Hazel.

A Freak Newspaper.

One of the most remarkable freak newspapers ever printed was The Luminaria, published in Madrid. It was printed with ink containing phosphorus, so that it could be read in the dark.

The Gentleman Farmer (anxiously)—What in the world, Uncle Tetterly, do you suppose is the matter with my hens? Why, this morning I found six of them lying on their backs, cold and stiff, with their feet sticking up in the air. The Ancient Man (after a siffleable season of cogitation)—Yer hens is dead, Clitly,—Puck.

"OUR SOUTHERN GIRLS"

The following response to a toast was delivered by an ex-representative of the "Advocate," our friend and co-laborer, Mr. Paul Brown, of Sharpsburg, at Ann Arbor, Michigan. Paul is a man of talents and ambition and we can see in him a marked success in his chosen profession. "Our Southern Girls," the subject assigned to Mr. Brown, lifted him above the common walks of men and set him soaring among the clouds. By a careful reading of this production the reader can see in Mr. Brown a coming lawyer.

Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen:—This is a very happy occasion tonight and I hope all of you may enjoy it as much as myself. I have listened with a great deal of pleasure to the remarks of gentlemen who have just preceded me. You have asked me to respond to a subject that should appeal to the heart of every Southerner and I should have declined had it not been that my loyalty and zeal to such charming and resplendent characters bade me arise to the occasion, however humble my words; for no chord of music has yet been found that equaled that sweetest of sounds, "My Southern Girl." No words of sentiment have ever reached the heights or fathomed the depths of God's noblest creation, "Our Southern Girls." For as nature has given sublimity unto the beautiful violet and majesty unto the snow-capped peak, so too upon her, nature has smiled, leaving a crimson hue upon the dainty cheek and a twinkle in the loving eye. Her presence lends enchantment and a charm in every land and every clime, whether sunned at the tropics or chilled at the pole. "The Southern Girl" has a temper evenly ruffled, but a spirit of forgiveness far greater; always of the happiest and sunniest disposition with a smile for every friend, nevertheless contempt for every foe. She is ever filled with animation and vivacity, always raptured with the world. Through her life's voyage, when eager winds are kissing every sail, whether in mid-ocean or amid the breakers of the farther shore, she is ever seeking a blessing to bestow, a burden to share; unselfish in all things and at all times. Some may not see the superiority, the advantage she may have, or notice that she alone can entertain a dozen men, but I must say frankly, it is perfectly plain to me, for I have seen none other half so good. Chicago claims the prettiest woman. Other cities and states may have their claims, for that is only natural, but you, Mr. Toastmaster, my gentlemen friends and to-be-lawyers as splendid types of knightly and southern chivalry, ever remember and realize that upon yonder canopy in the vaulted heavens above, stand out in words unclouded thereon, the world-wide fact that beyond the waters of the turbulent Ohio, in the land where magnolia breezes blow, reared and nurtured amid the sun-kissed hills of the South, ever has been and ever will be the native birth of the noblest, purest, truest and most beautiful type of girlhood and womanhood upon which the sun has ever shone. So drink this one toast, for

"Here's to all And each of one, The pride of our hearts And hopes of the future, Our Southern Girls." When I asked them to drink to the Southern Girls with me, I held aloof my water glass while all others lifted the wine glasses except Judge Cannuck. So the toasts were both from Kentucky, where they say you best drink "hoose." It took me about six minutes to deliver this. Pity long for the occasion, with a number on the program. It was 12 o'clock before I was called on for my few words.

LOUISVILLE

CITY HOSPITAL

Can Be Compared Only to Prisons of Barbaric Days.

VOGT IS REMOVED

AS SUPERINTENDENT.

Mayor Bingham on Tuesday, August 13th, peremptorily removed Julius C. Vogt as superintendent of the Louisville City Hospital and appointed Dr. J. J. Menefee in his place.

Mayor Bingham issued a statement that no matter what happened politically or otherwise he would give all of his time and energy to remedy the terrible conditions which exist at the City Hospital.

At noon Mayor Bingham received a report from the committee of physicians appointed by the Jefferson County Medical Association to examine the City Hospital. This committee consisted of three of the foremost physicians of Louisville.

They made a thorough examination; the conditions beggar description and say they can only be compared to "the prisons of barbaric Europe," and that nearly all the wards and departments are in a frightful condition. The conditions are held to be far worse than they were charged to be a year ago, when Paul Barth's Board of Safety forced Dr. J. J. Menefee to resign as interne because he tried to remedy the frightful conditions existing at that time.

After receiving the report of the physicians Mayor Bingham said:

"I received that report today. I confess it made me sick at heart. I feared that things were bad but I did not believe they were so terrible as this report shows."

"I immediately ordered the removal of Mr. Vogt as superintendent and appointed Dr. J. J. Menefee, I do not even know what Dr. Menefee's politics is and I do not care."

"I will carry out as quickly as possible every recommendation made by the physicians except the immediate building of a new City Hospital. This I cannot do for the city has no money."

John D. Wakefield, James B. Smith and John Settle made a prolonged investigation of the charges and exonerated the hospital management and asked for Dr. Menefee's resignation, which was promptly given.

The Courier-Journal, the Times and Paul Barth united together in a malignant attack upon Dr. Menefee for exposing the conditions. Henry Watterson was particularly malignant and vindictive in assailing Dr. Menefee in the editorial columns of the Courier-Journal.

Now every charge made by Dr. Menefee and more are proved and Dr. Menefee is put in charge of the hospital. —The Evening Post.

Patronize Home Merchants.

After all that has been said or can be said about the big mail order houses, the simple fact remains that they get the business by thorough and persistent advertising, showing cuts of goods and giving prices. If home merchants would take the same methods, much of the trade now going to the mail order houses in the cities would come to them. A man we know recently made up a list of tools and hardware from one of the mail order catalogs and took it to a home dealer to get prices. He was surprised to find that he could get the same articles at home for less money and save the express charges, and also see the goods he was buying. —Newspaper Talk.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

Opens at Lexington August 31st.

The Democratic State Campaign Committee on Thursday decided to formally open the State campaign with a meeting at Lexington on August 31.

Judge Hager was the first speaker at the meeting. He suggested that the formal campaign opening be held at Lexington. He pointed out the advantages of Lexington for an opening place.

Gov. Beckham followed. He declared that he would accept the suggestion of Judge Hager that the campaign be opened at Lexington. Originally he had favored Paducah, but had deferred to the wishes of Judge Hager, he being at the head of the ticket and he, Beckham, feeling it the duty of every candidate on the ticket, and the party leaders to uphold Judge Hager's hands as the leader of the campaign.

Governor Predicts Success.

The Governor predicted success for the Democratic ticket in November. He reviewed briefly the record of the party for seven years past, and declared that the campaign would be one of education, and that the Democrats have no fear of the closest inspection of the party's records.

"I would infinitely rather, in December next, turn over the office of Governor to Judge Hager and lose a seat in the United States Senate than go to that office seeing Kentucky pass into the hands of Republicans," declared the Governor in closing.

Her Last Prayer Granted.

Bob and Richard Crenshaw, two brothers of Webster county, were paroled last week from the penitentiary. About two years ago they accompanied their sister to the depot to see her off for her home in Indiana. She had separated from her husband and he had come to the train to get possession of their two children. A quarrel ensued and the two brothers held the man while the woman shot and killed him. At the trial the sister was given a life sentence and the two brothers each twenty-one years. The sister committed suicide in prison, leaving a pathetic letter in which she pleaded for the release of her brothers.

NEWSPAPERS ONLY

Will be Used by Newcastle, Indiana, Business Men in the Future for Their Advertising.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Newcastle, Ind., has placed the ban on all advertising schemes, and will have nothing to do with programs, so-called business directories or other schemes devised to separate a merchant from his cash. Newspaper advertising is recognized as the only profitable publicity method and will be strictly adhered to in the future. This decision was reached after one year's investigation of results obtained from various forms of advertising.

A committee was appointed by the Merchants' League who kept actual figures on the business done by the merchants and traced to various forms of advertising. The only form of advertising showing actual benefits was traced to legitimate newspapers. Special boom editions were condemned by the committee and merchants were urged to refrain from using them. They are usually the products of solicitors traveling from city to city interesting a certain class of newspapers in their schemes and taking a per cent. of the profits for their share in the work, spending no money with the merchants who advertised. The Newcastle Merchants' League recommend that their merchants use only the bona fide newspapers published regularly either daily, Sunday or weekly.

"Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is the best remedy for that often fatal disease—croup. Has been used with success in our family for years."—Mrs. L. Whiteacre, Buffalo, N. Y.

Acted Within Its Scope.

The Supreme Court of Georgia has decided that the General Assembly of the Cumberland Church acted within its authority when it voted for union of all the Cumberland Churches with reference to church property to be recognized by civil courts. The decision has the effect of awarding the property of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Atlanta to that part of the membership which upholds the union of the churches, consummated by the General Assembly at Decatur, Ill., May 26, 1906.

Judge Ed. C. O'Rear has accepted an invitation to introduce Hon. William Taft, of Ohio, to a Kentucky audience at Lexington. We trust Judge O'Rear may seize the opportunity and display the greatness of the man that he is.

WHICH WILL YOU CHOOSE?

The race for Chief Executive honors in Kentucky is between a popular Democrat of Eastern Kentucky and a Louisville Republican. The former is in line with the State's moral forces, temperance being an issue.

EMPTY HONOR.

Richard Ernst, of Covington, Chairman of Republican State Campaign Committee, is an outspoken candidate against ex-Gov. Bradley to succeed Senator McCready in the U. S. Senate. A lively scrap is on for the empty honor.

REGARD LAWS.

When men with well defined temperance convictions are elected to office there is a prospect that temperance laws will be enforced; why should men who regard their oaths of office refuse to enforce any law, whether favorable or unfavorable to temperance?

Hon. Augustus E. Willson, native of Maysville, has worked on himself until he is able to say at this time he is in earnest in the declaration, "there are chances to win out and become Governor of Kentucky." People imagine some things when much exercised. We do not see any chance for Mr. Willson.

BOTH CLAIM VICTORY.

In Washington on August 15, former Gov. Bradley and former Internal Revenue Commissioner Yerkes buried the hatchet until after the election and had a long talk over the Kentucky political situation at the Raleigh. They both claim that the Republicans will carry both the State and Legislature.

BRAVE WOMAN.

The achievement of Miss Mand Ellis at Maysville by plunging into the Ohio, full dressed and saving the life of a young lady who was about to drown, is worthy of all praise. Few women have the ability to do the like, and still fewer the courage.—Courier-Journal.

The C. J. hasn't a varied experience with women. If he had he could not be serious and talk so. They have ability and courage, even to emergencies.

RIGHT MAN.

Rev. A. E. Carnahan has been appointed a member of the Democratic Campaign Committee to represent the Levee precinct. This is a wise appointment. Rev. Carnahan is sound in doctrine and in his workings with men appeals to their reason. He has always stood firmly for the temperance cause, and for the reason that Democracy is thoroughly imbued with these doctrines, he will urge all men, regardless of political affiliations, to stand by Democratic nominees.

COMMERCIAL CLUB.

On Tuesday evening of last week at a business men's meeting contemplating a Commercial Club, the following committees were appointed:

By-Laws—C. K. Oldham, E. W. Senf, W. A. Samuels.
To Solicit Charter Members—C. C. Chennault, A. B. Oldham, W. A. Samuels, J. C. Cooper.

The membership fee was placed at $5. The next meeting was called for last night—too early for report in this issue.

An organization of this kind can do much for the development of a town and should receive the sympathy of enterprising firms and individuals.

A CHILL.

From what we can gather from reliable source, the Republican campaign launched at Maysville on Monday met with a chill so severe that it may produce a set-back and possibly a destructive wilt. The crowd was not large nor was it over enthusiastic. The speakers whole tone showed an inclination to create dissensions within Democratic ranks, to induce them to remain at home or to stultify conscience by accepting doctrines destructive to better government. Of course Democrats are not dull to such insults to manhood and character and will show their resentment at the polls. The admission was, we can not be elected without Democratic votes, and that a grand stand play would be made for them. On the temperance question Mr. Willson favored local government, saying that personally he was a temperance man though not always for prohibition. Consider this, temperance advocates, and decide whether or not the Republican party with this feeble temperance leader is worthy of your support. Willson declared much but proved nothing. In short, he just talked sufficient to demonstrate his weakness on vital questions. He truly wants to be Governor of Kentucky and pleads that Democrats lift him to the goal of his ambition. These thoughts are suggestions from speech of Mr. Willson's reports and we shall have more to say after a careful reading of his deliberate and thoughtful utterances.

TIME TO YIELD.

The ideas uppermost or that should be among Democrats, in fact with all organizations, is strength. The greatest force or influence comes from united forces. An engine may be hitched to so many loaded cars that it could not move them an inch, but add a second, a third and a fourth if needs be, and the tremendous freight moves right on. So it is with political forces. In union there is strength. If the Democratic party should prove herself, all factions must become defunct and a new spirit possess it. Louisville must consider the chastisement administered a necessity for good and work as sincere party men for the good of the organization, because they believe in its doctrines. A united party in Louisville means in this year, 1907, very much, and likewise in Mt. Sterling. Get together. We can't get everything wanted, but we can get together.

Strayed or Stolen.

On Monday or Tuesday morning from my farm on North Middle-town pike, a two-year-old red steer. Return to Mrs. Fannie Moberley.

DAMAGE SUIT.

B. W. Trimble, Junior Editor, Sued By Frank Gibbons for $15,000.

On Thursday, August 15, summons was executed on B. W. Trimble of this paper to answer an action filed against him in the Fayette County Circuit Court by Frank Gibbons, saloon keeper of this city, who claims damages in the sum of $15,000. The action charges that the plaintiff Gibbons, "has been caused great annoyance and distress of mind, his good name and fame has been tarnished and seriously injured and he has been injured in his business and occupation and in his standing as a business man, all to his damage in the sum of $15,000." He claims that "false, defamatory and malicious statements" were published in the ADVOCATE concerning him on Sept. 12.

Our readers will remember our report of some events which occurred in our city during the summer and early fall of 1906, on which the plaintiff Gibbons places his suit for damages. His Mt. Sterling attorney is Henry Watson. Our readers will observe that the suit is not filed in our (Montgomery) county, where the parties are known. Answer to the action must be made in 30 days.

CORRESPONDENCE.

PLUM LICK.

Mrs. Sarah Crouch continues very poorly.

Mrs. J. W. Bowles is visiting her son at Lawrenceburg.

Ed Crouch sold a bunch of hogs to Milard Wade at 64c.

James Kendall took in Parks' Hill Chautauqua and Blue Grass Fair.

Plum Lick has a base ball team that bids fair to be the best in the State.

James Kendall sold a load of corn to Ed Crouch at $3.50 per bu. in the crib.

Elder Amos Kendall and wife, of Sudith, Ky., visited their sons here last week to visit Press Kendall in Nicholas county.

There will be a big colt show here August 31st. Will Crouch will give a season to best colt by his horse; also a sweepstake of $30 to best colt by any horse.

The tobacco crop is six weeks behind time and very irregular. Some have just finished hoeing while others are beginning to top over their crops the first time.

A. B. Setters, of Mt. Sterling, was in this vicinity last week buying horses for R. Kirk, of West Virginia. He reports the following sales: 3 from Walter Boyd at $360, 1 from Chas. Boyd $220, 1 from Mr. Humphries $150, 2 from James Douglas $250 and 3 from Will Bramblett at $600.

Special woolen display August 21st and 22nd at Guthrie Clothing Company.

Seriously Hurt.

On Wednesday night while returning to his home on Hinkston pike Harry Ringo was seriously crippled. His horse reared up and falling back, caught him. His right leg was broken below the knee and the bones extended through the flesh. The injury is serious.

Seeks to Depose Administrator.

Mrs. Fannie May Brennan, wife of J. M. Brennan, of Bourbon, has instituted suit in Bath County Court to depose her brother, Geo. Hamilton, as Administrator of their mother's will. A large property is involved.

Councilman Wade reported Monday the biggest livery day he has had since he has been in the city, even surpassing Barnum's circus day.

Stolen.

Advance copy of President Roosevelt's speech was obtained by Wall street speculators who used it in shifting the markets for their profit.

August Court.

A conservative estimate of the number of cattle on the market is 6,000 head. Every pen was full and a great many left in the country for want of room. Some traders would sell out their pens and then bring in more cattle, some filling their pens three times during the day. Very few heavy weight steers on the market as September and October court days is the time they are brought in. Trade was very brisk and the scales were busy all day weighing. The best 1,000 lb. steers sold at 44c, with light weight stuff at $3.75 to $4.25. Yearlings at $4 to $4.25. Heifers were a little off and they sold at from 3 to 3 1/2c, very few selling at the last named price. Cows at 2c to 3c, with bulls at 2 to 2 1/2c. Very few sheep in the market. Large crowd at the pens and most of them buyers as trade was as brisk as we ever saw it. A good deal of complaint from buyers from other counties that there was no pens to be had to lot stock while they were completing their purchasing. We need some pens of this sort and some one can get a good revenue by fitting up some lots near the pens.

SALES.

M. C. Wilson sold 8 825 lb. steers to J. A. Cleveland at 4c.
J. H. Arnett sold 11 600 lb. heifers to J. A. Sharp, of Bath county, at $3.35.
Hiram Long sold 40 600 lb. heifers to T. J. White, of Fayette, at $3.25.

B. P. Kash sold 20 550 lb. steers to W. R. Gordon, of Clark, at 3c.
J. H. Henry bought 10 1050 lb. steers of Stafford & Co. at 41c.
J. H. Richard, of Bath, bought 35 700 lb. yearlings at $4.05.

Wm. Lunks sold 11 600 lb. heifers to J. R. Swetnam at $3.20.

WOLFE COUNTY MAN

Robbed of $83 at the 'Hub' Saloon. Proprietor Taken into Custody.

That gambling of the most notorious character is permitted to go unchecked in Lexington, was brought to light Wednesday afternoon by the charges made in a warrant sworn out by Robert Stamper, a prominent lumberman of Wolfe county, against James Chandler, proprietor of "The Hub" saloon, charging him with permitting gambling on his premises.

Stamper claims to have been robbed of $83, by a "spindle" game and was fortunate enough to recover his money, but not until he had invoked the aid of the law.

Mr. Stamper and his attorney, R. S. Crawford, did not hesitate to give the facts and to request certain officials for what they termed a "brazen effort to protect the gamblers and saloon keepers."

LAY ONLY BY LAMPLIGHT.

McKeever Man Says He Has Solved
Problem of Eggs in Winter.

Hiram Scott, of McKeever, believes
he has solved the vexatious problem
of making hens lay eggs when they don't want to. If he has, a road to wealth is open to farmers. He certainly has his hiddies come to the scratch and profited thereby.

The discovery was largely due to accident, but if Mr. Scott hadn't been an observing kind of man he would still be minus the great secret.

One night last winter when his hens couldn't be coaxed to perform their duty, he left a lantern hanging in his henhouse and forgot it. Next morning he was shocked to find the light still burning, for the lantern had little oil in it and might have blown
up. Such things have happened.

But the farmer had a greater surprise in store for him. All the hens cackled and in their nests were a dozen fine white eggs.

It was plain that 12 of the 18 hens
had laid in the night, and as they hadn't accomplished such a feat in a month he judged the lantern had something to do with it. Whether it was the added warmth or the rays of light he didn't know, but it was plain
that the eggs had come.

Next night the lantern, well filled
with oil, was left in the same place
and more eggs were laid. The following night the lantern was not lit and not an egg greeted Mr. Scott's gaze in the morning.

It having thus been established that the hens wouldn't lay except under artificial light, the lantern was there after provided.

Mr. Scott says that his hens are dopey day times and sleep most of the period between sunrise and sunset, but that they appear healthy and robust—N. Y. World.

"COME SEVEN, ELEVEN."

Budding Business Man "Makes Good"
to His Admiring Parent.

When Sam came back from college
his father didn't think he would make good as a business man because he hadn't had practical experience, says
the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Sam's mother pleaded so hard his father decided to let him do some of the buying for the house, but he shook his head and said:

"The boy will lose money for me,
sure."

A few days later a salesman for a wholesale house came in and Sam took him to the buying room. Sam's mother was so anxious and keen that her faith in the boy was justified as stood near the door and listened. After remaining there for a while she ran into the store and said to her husband:

"Jacob, the boy's all right. He is interesting on a Mager discount than we ever got. I heard him. He's holer's 'seven, eleven.' You know Jacob, we never got better than six per cent. for ten days. He's got the making of the business man."

But Sam was not to be a game of craps with his friend, the salesman, who was a classmate at college.

The Niggerd's Way.

A Philadelphia said Miss Anna
T. Jones, who has given $100,000
for negro education in the south:

"Miss Jones is a splendid philanthropy. To a good cause she is generously itself. Giving promptly and freely, she has no sympathy with niggers. I once heard her tell a story about a niggerly rich man of childhood."

"This man visited a school and made an address. At the end he said a little boy up to him and said:
"My lad, have you a purse?"

"No, sir."

"I'm sorry," said the rich man. "If you had a purse, I should have given
you a dime to put it in."

"This man was scheduled to speak
again at the school the next month,
and when he came the boys were prepared for him. An empty purse lay in every pair of trousers."

"And sure enough, at the end of the speech, the man called another boy
and said:

"Have you a purse, my son?"

"Yes, sir," was the eager answer.

"I'm glad of it," said the other. "If you hadn't, I should have given you a dime to buy one with."—San Antonio Express.

Pride.

Doubtless Prince Fushimi, of Japan,
made the acquaintance of Highland pipers in the course of his visit to Scotland. It is reported that Lord John Russell, when on a visit to Queen Victoria at Balmoral, asked her majesty's own piper to have some one play in his presence.

"What kind of a piper do you want?"
asked the man.

"Just such another as yourself,"
said the English statesman.

Drawing himself up the musician
said grandly: "There's plenty of loud
like yourself, but very few pipers like me."—Cleveland Leader.

A Fellow-Feeling.

"I don't think," said Mrs. Henry Peck, "that I would be afraid of a man-eating tiger."

"I don't believe you'd need to,
Mia," responded Henpeck, "he'd resist a kindred spirit!"—Houston Post.

Fellows in Misfortune.

"Well," growled the first man at the five o'clock tea, "if it were not for my wife I wouldn't be here."

"No, hang it and neither would I if it were not for my wife. I'm the hoster's husband."—Philadelphia Press.

Society Reporter at the Fire.

The regular reporter was taking a vacation. The young woman who writes the society news was sent to bring in a report of a fire.

She said:

"Quite a number of people in this part of the city attended a fire
last night at the residence of Mr.
and Mrs. Blank in Thirtieth street. Some went in carriages and buggies, but a majority walked. The alarm was sounded
about 9:30, and many who attended the fire had just returned from church, consequently they were already dressed for the occasion."

"Mr. Blank was out of the city on business, hence the affair will be quite a surprise to him when he returns. Mrs. Blank wore a light
percale kimono and had her hair
done up in kid curlers."

"The firemen responded readily
and worked heroically to subdue
the seething flames. Most of them were fairly good-looking. They were dressed in oilcloth coats, cut short, with trousers to match.

Their hat rims were narrow in front and broad behind, and sagged down in the rear. The chief's hat was ornamented with an octo-
gonal brass spike, which stuck
up above his head like a horn, giving him the appearance of a unicorn."

"When the flames broke out
through the second story and cast
a lurid hue over the surrounding buildings the view was once never to be forgotten. At a late hour
the sight-seers went home, and all felt that they had passed an evening full of interest and excitement."—Nebraska (Kas.) Sun.

Save Your Fowls.

Mr. H. E. Samuel, the veteran
druggist of Harrodsburg, Ky.,
says: "Please find enclosed check
for which send me another case of Bourbon Poultry Cure. This Poultry Cure is certainly a good remedy. I have sold all but four bottles out of the case sent me and every bottle I have sold has been praised. I am truly grateful that it is so reliable." This remedy is sold by W. S. Lloyd.

Resigned.

Strother Thomas has resigned
his position with E. W. Stockton,

The Hired Man's Week.

(Was by H. H. Hall.)

Monday—The President cut 8 cords of wood. I counted the cords for him.

Tuesday—To-day the President
mowed the ten-acre lot. I didn't spoil the sport by luttin' in.

Wednesday—The President
pitched hay. He kin pitch hay
with the best of 'em. I let him
enjoy himself.

Thursday—"Stump pullin'." The President pulls 'em with his bare hands. I set over in the shade an'
kep' count.

Friday—The President plowed.
I watched the root-beer jug.

Saturday—The President split
rails. Had me on the jump keepin'
tabs.

Sunday—Day of rest. This man Roosevelt suits me. I like to work for a man like him.

Excursion Season Opens.

First excursion to Cincinnati via
C. & C. will be Sunday, April 14,
and every other Sunday thereafter
through the month of October.

STOMACH ACHE

You have
more or less
trouble with
your stomach, you
bowl, you
everybody
does. And when these
delicate and
easily-dis-
ordered organs do get
out of order,
they are the
worst things
in the world to you. If you took the right kind of care of them, you wouldn't suffer, but you don't.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin
(Laxative)

Everybody knows that PEPsin is good for the stomach, but in combination with certain plant drugs by DR. CALD-WELL'S formula, its natural value
is highly increased.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin
is the best thing in the world for correcting and curing all forms of stomach trouble—you'll say so when you try it.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin
can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes at all druggists, and your money will be refunded if it fails to benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return
mail a new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to try it. Write for it today. No money needed. Mail your postal today.

A NEW SCHOOL DESK.

Provides Support for the Child's Back,
Where It is Most Needed.

In the belief that proper seating facilities play an important part in the welfare of school children, George W. Ehler, supervisor of physical training, and Director of Schools Charles Orr worked until they have perfected what they believe is the best seat and desk in the country,
says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The seat is constructed according to Ehler's own plans and is based upon
an exhaustive set of measurements
made of him last year in the schools.
It provides support for the child's back, where it is most needed, at the base of the spinal column and the small of the back. Another strong point is that the seat proper is pitched backward only slightly, keeping the body at a restful angle. Both seat and back are adjustable. The new desks are being installed in all the new buildings and grow in favor
wherever put.

Until the perfection of Ehler's improved seat there were two forms of desk used in the schools. The first was the old-fashioned desk, not adjustable with the child's back, and
in many cases the different grades were supposed that all children in the same grade would be of a size.

Then came the so-called "liver-pad" desk. The back of the seat in this style of desk consisted of a single curved rest, to be placed at that point where the child's back most needed support. This was faulty in two respects. In the first place it was narrow and did not give the child a firm grip and in the second it gave support at only one point, where-
as the spine requires support at several points.

THAT RARE ANIMAL, MAN.

Seldom Caught Before 8 O'Clock in London, Never in Day Time.

Time was when London was one of the capitals where man could be discerned with the naked eye in the daytime; but now he is almost invisible
except at certain favored spots in the city and a few eclectic clubs at Pall Mall.

There was a period considerably
later than the stone age, when this interesting but rare creature was to be observed, feeding quite tamely, at literary and political breakfasts. Later on, he was still to be enticed by fair hands and good parties, and was sometimes found hovering near the exchange table of some beautiful and expert between five and seven.

But with the new century this rare creature's habits have altered most completely, for he is seldom to be caught before eight p. m. on week days, and has a habit, moreover, of retiring to remote haunts and obscure thickets from Friday night till Monday afternoon.

It has been observed that the younger and best bred specimens exhibit a curious dislike both to the immature and elderly females of their kind, but he is known to show marked animation when enticed by a young and comely matron, and will, on these occasions, approach without fear, and even feed out of her hand—
London Sketch.

Story of Irving.

Irving never continue to spring
up. Lionel Barrymore played the stage with Sir Henry the night of his death and he told of the last moments
of England's greatest actor as follows:

"I noticed," said the actor, "that
the night when he played Geoffrey Hauzard, and I said to myself that as soon as the curtain fell on the act
I would speak to the child about it.
It was cross the stage to overtake
the little one and make the correction
in his makeup when I heard Irving,
who was walking in before me, say,
"How do you much red on your face." That was 45 minutes before he breathed his last, and as I afterward
learned from the doctors, he was literally dying all through the performance."

Countess Dancing for a Living.

A great sensation has been created throughout Sweden by the appearance on the stage as a dancer
in national costume of the little Countess von Nordenfjeld, who is only 12 years old, and whose family,
through continued misfortune, has fallen into evil ways. According to a German newspaper the little titled dancer will before long appear at German, French and English theaters. She is receiving the magnificent salary of $350 a week.

Uncle Sam's Pasturage.

Uncle Sam, unlike Job, the rich man of the east, does not own many cattle and horses, or sheep and goats, but he furnishes an enormous amount of grazing land for those who do have herds and flocks, says
the Wall Street Journal. The total number of grown stock allowed to graze upon national forest lands
during the season of 1907 included 1,388,000 cattle and horses
and 4,895,020 sheep and goats.

Concrete Lighthouse.

By the use of concrete a tall light-house was constructed in a short period of time at the Point de la Coudre,
at the mouth of the Gironde river,
in France. The building is 235 feet high and about 35 feet in diameter at the base. It was finished in nine months after the beginning of the work, and cost $20,000. The haste was due to the fact that the sea threatened to wash away the old structure.

Preserved Pears.

Five hundred dollars is the price
asked by a Washington man for a jar of preserved pears of which he has been the owner for more than a quarter of a century.

The fruit was put up February 25, 1873, by Mrs. Ella C. Haller,
then a resident of Patterson, N.
J. A few years later the jar was brought to Washington and placed on exhibition at the old Riggs House. When it had been there for a year it was raffled off for charity, netting $1,000.

The man who won it presented
it to his sweetheart, and she, when she married another, gave it to a relative, who is its present owner.

There are exactly one bushel of pears in the jar. They were put in peach brandy, and are in perfect state of preservation. The name of the woman who put up
the pears, together with the date,
is on the jar, the seal of which has never been broken.—Washington
Cor. of the St. Louis Republic.

If Taylor knows anything that will help Powers and is too mean
and cowardly to come and tell it
on an offer of immunity from arrest, he and his friends, if he has any, can not kick if Powers
and his friends find in the application for his extradition. Under such circumstances the Governor of Indiana would not further decline to perform a sworn duty and Taylor may get away for the crime he confesses by flight and continued absence. Uneasy indeed must lie the head of such a refugee from justice.—Louisville Times.

It is believed by students of

has nothing to do with Japan,
but that trouble is expected when
the Dowager Empress of China dies. She is now reported to be in ill health.

LEECHES AND LEMONS.

The Latter a Cure for the Former in Ceylon.

"Wherever you go, in Ceylon," said the sailor, "you always carry a lemon with you. For punch? No, sir; not for punch. For leeches. They're not merely water leeches in Ceylon; they're land leeches, too. These blood suckers hang on to bushes and trees; they lurk in the grass, wait for you. The average size before dinner is only about half an inch long and no thicker than a hair—you might say invisible. They easily work their way through the thread of your stockings and under your wear. After dinner they're as fat as your finger.

"Wherever you go the leeches prey on you. I was dressed in white one night, ridin' with a beautiful Ceylon girl, when I saw a red streak on my white pants below the knee. Excuse myself hastily, I retired. It was a leech, of course, dinin' with me uninvited.

"The only way to get them off with out breakin' them and leavin' their heads in them is to squeeze a few drops of lemon on them, the same as if they was raw oysters. That always does it, and they fall to the ground like ripe fruit. Every two or three minutes you see the Ceylonese stop, take out a lemon and squeeze carefully the half dozen leeches that in a black mass to the calf of the leg. "The average Ceylon leech was, I said, half an inch long. Yet there were some that three inches long that can jump, by crinns, that jump on you from the bushes as you pass by. "Sounds delicious, don't it? But what can be done in a land where they have bird-catchin' spiders and centipedes a foot long?"

THE ONE HE WANTED.

Advice From the Old Hand to the Aspirant for Honors.

The amateur author entered the room of the old hand, his artistic fingers rummaging through his hair, his eyes in a frenzy rolling.

"Me soul chafes within me," he announced. "Let her chafe," muttered the old hand; "I'm busy."

"Me father's business interests me no longer; the daily round, the common task, fills me with disgust! Me whole being shudders as I lift the sand into the sugar, and me hand try abies as I add the water to the milk. Me mind is made up—I will quit this base bartering for a nobler life. I will become a journalist. I will join the staff of a magazine. Which of them, think you, will raise me to the highest position in the shortest period?"

"You might try a powder magazine," suggested the old hand, cynically. "Seems just the thing you want!"—Stray Stories.

Feeding the Kaiser.

Feeding the German emperor is no light task. Despite all that is said about the Kaiser's Spartan habits there are few monarchs who keep more elaborate tables. He has no less than four chefs—Schlenderstucker, a German; Harding, an Englishman; an Italian and a Frenchman—so that he can have his meals for the day served in the style of whatever nation he may happen to fancy.

Each of these chefs has his staff of assistants, while, in addition, there is an individual who may be described as "sausage maker to the Kaiser." His mastery is a very fond of the huge white frankfurter sausage, and has a supply of them made fresh every day in his own kitchen. When engaged in manœuvring his army on a big field day these frankfurters and bread, washed down with lager beer, invariably form the Kaiser's lunch—Cleveland Leader.

Nature Study.

Moving pictures are to be used for scientific demonstration as well as for amusement. Photography has proved of great value in the study of anatomy, and it is now proposed to produce living pictures of surgical operations, so that students may acquire the technique without verbal description. Such representations might be of service in refreshing the memory, but some patients would not care to submit to an operation which had been rehearsed by means of a kinematograph. Mr. Charles Urban suggests that this method might be employed with advantage in the study of living wild animals. We should then be able to settle all the tedious and momentous questions about caribou, wolves and grizzlies, to say nothing of the woodcock treating its own broken leg secundum artem.—New York Evening Post.

Interesting Circumstance.

Excavations in Rome being conducted on the Palatine hill have shown a curious and interesting circumstance. The Necropolis has been found to contain remains of the ninth, eighth, sixth and fourth centuries before Christ. All the remains of the seventh and fifth centuries are lacking and archaeologists are engaged in a close study of the field in order to find the reason.

Her Master's Voice.

LAWS ABOUT SPOOKS.

Illegal to Shoot Them in England—Other Court Rulings.

Lawsuits about alleged ghosts, of a nature similar to the one which was brought out the other day before Mr. Justice Grantham, are a little from uncommon.

Indeed, there is quite a little library of books relating to the subject, all of them full of musty, rusty precedents, and each and every one of them bound in that peculiar, undecorated, pleated colored material known to booksellers as law calf.

From these books one may learn many things about ghosts, and the proper way to treat them. It is, for instance, illegal to belabor a "ghost" after it has cried out that it is not a ghost; while a man who goes hunting after an alleged ghost, and shoots and kills a human being who is masquerading in spook attire, is guilty of murder.

You may not summarily give up possession of a house of which you are tenant, simply because you believe it to be haunted, nor yet even if it is currently alleged and reputed to be haunted.

But, on the other hand, damages have been recovered against a landlord who let a notoriously spook-infested dwelling to a tenant without first informing him of its evil reputation.

A father has, too, obtained a verdict against a schoolmaster whose son was haunted by a ghost which frightened his boy into fits, and it has been held to be illegal to shut up a prisoner in a reputedly haunted jail.

Once a woman sought a judicial separation from her spouse on the ground that he was in league with a familiar spirit, which haunted his bedroom by night and his study by day.

But her petition was refused, the Judge remarking that she had taken her husband for worse, as well as for better, and that she might as well seek to be relieved of him because he had developed a wart on his nose as a spirit at his elbow.—Pearson's Weekly.

MONEY IN APRICOT PITS.

Substitute for Almonds—Big Profit in Them for Balearic Islands.

A recent increase in the price of almonds has caused a new craze of economy and much money is being made in the Balearic Islands in the Mediterranean off the coast of Spain by the sale of the kernels of apricots, says the New York Sun. There is a huge demand for them in England and Germany, where they are used as a substitute for almonds in confectionery and in cheap grades of puddings and pastry.

The fruit is cultivated in the Balearic Islands on an enormous scale and is preserved in various styles. Until recently the stones, when the pulp was removed from them, were treated as refuse. Children pick out the kernels and they are dried and packed for shipment after the regular preserving season is over, thus prolonging the warehousing period of the people.

Last year Majorca alone produced 50,000 cases of apricot kernels, weighing about 300 pounds each case. There are both bitter and sweet kernels. The price of the sweet ones rose from about $18 a case in 1906 to about $27 last year. The other ones are considerably cheaper.

Nobody Hurt.

A man whose love of long words is superior to his method of pronouncing them took up the morning paper at breakfast the other day and began to read about the most peculiar railroad accident.

A train, having collided with a snag of some kind, had described a few parabolas in the air, turned turtle, dived into a river, and otherwise upset the plans of those who were running it.

All the people at the breakfast table listened to the account with breathless interest. "What a terrible accident," said one.

"There must have been a great many killed," remarked another. "No," said the newspaper reader, with the printed account still fresh in his mind, "there were no fatalities."

Thought Picture a Ghost.

Once Dr. Grenfell visited Ramah and exhibited to the astonished Eskimos some stereoscopic views—photographs that he had taken there in a previous year. It so happened that one of the pictures was that of an old woman who had died since the photograph was made, and when it appeared upon the screen terror struck the hearts of the simple-minded people.

They believed it was her spirit returned to earth, and for a long time afterward imagined that they saw it floating about at night, visiting the woman's old haunts.—Outing Magazine.

Using the Insurance.

"I think," said the man whose commercial emporium had been burned curiously, "that I'll try my new yacht this afternoon."

"Ah, going to have a fire sail," commented a friend; but as this style of jest has to be seen in print to be appreciated it fell flat, of course.—Philadelphia Ledger.

We All Know Him.

"Knowledge is power."

"Then yonder goes the most powerful man in the world."

"How's that?"

"He knows it all!"—Pittsburgh Post.

A BARREL OF APPLS.

But the Groceryman Would Not Hear the Tale.

"I wish to speak to you about that barrel of apples I bought that before yesterday," said the kindlooking old gentleman.

"You'll have to see the clerk who sold them to you," the grocer answered, very snappishly. "I don't know anything about them."

"But I desire to say to you personally that I am not satisfied."

"Now, look here; I can't be bothered over every pound of sugar or pint of cider or barrel of apples that my clerks sell. Just see the young man who waited on you. He's around somewhere."

"Yes, I see him there at the back end of the store; but I really felt that it was my duty to tell you about it. You see—"

"If I started around listening to everybody who comes into this store to complain that they've bought something they didn't want, or that they've been cheated as they think by my clerks, I wouldn't have time for anything else. You'll please excuse me. The clerk will hear your complaint, and if there is anything we can do you may be sure it will be done. But we can't take back a barrel of apples after they have been out of the store two or three days. You can surely see that if we did business in such a way—"

"My dear sir, I don't want you to take back the apples, and I haven't any complaint to make. I merely wished to tell you that I found the apples at the bottom of the barrel to be just as big as the ones at the top. I believe in the principle of giving praise wherever it may be fairly given, and I stepped in to order another barrel, but I see you're too busy to bother with such a trifle this morning, so I will be going!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

BIG STICKS IN LONDON.

Johnnies Carrying Canes of 46 Inches and Size is Growing.

The London "Johnny" has a new fad. This time it concerns his walking-stick, which has now reached the extraordinary length of 46 inches, and is still growing.

Of course it is impossible to make much use of such a stick as an aid to walking. The London dandy carries his horizontally, much to the annoyance of other pedestrians before and behind, and especially at crowded crossings.

It is hardly reasonable to suppose that the New York "Willie Boy" is going to follow in the footsteps of London's "Johnny" in this matter of walking-sticks. Neither New York nor any other busy American city would stand for them.

Imagine one of these walking canes, carried horizontally, attempting to board a subway or Brooklyn bridge train or to turn a busy Broadway corner during rush hours. Everybody who has attempted to board a train carrying even a small package can imagine the fate of the walking-stick.—N. Y. World.

Experienced.

"You say you're an experienced man," asked the president of the police board, examining an applicant for an appointment as patrolman. "I am," answered the applicant. "I've had a great deal of experience as a rioter."

"As a rioter?"

"Yes, sir."

"Have you ever been an officer?"

"No, sir."

"Have you ever been a strike breaker?"

"No, sir."

"What do you know about riots, then?"

"I was an oval car conductor in St. Louis for six nights, sir.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Coins Found in Old Wall.

A remarkable discovery of a hoard of gold and silver coins, amounting in value to about £200, has been made in the townland of Annaloughy near Aughey, county Tyrone. The money was discovered hidden in an old wall beside the house which has been the property of the same family for generations.

The back of the wall at one time formed a portion of the original house. How or when the hoard was placed in position where it was discovered is a mystery, but from the dates on the coins it must have been at least half a century ago.—Westminster Gazette.

Hibernating Bats.

Nearly all bats have the faculty of hibernating. Their hibernation, however, is not perfect—that is to say, that when the warm days occur in the middle of winter they wake up, together with the insects which are their food. Still, theirs is a true hibernation, differing from sleep, with very low rate of pulse, heart action and respiration. Probably they would endure immersion in water for an hour or two without drowning, as other hibernators have been found to do.

Chance for Inventors.

Suppose that one could find an alloy that would bear the same relation to aluminum that steel does to carbon or bronze to tin, says the Engineering Record. The result would be a new structural material of immense importance in mechanical work. The builders of light machinery are looking for just this thing.

PROFESSIONAL.

H. R. PREWITT ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, M. T. Sterling, Kentucky.

Office: Court St., opposite Court House, Samuels Building, front room upstairs.

NEGRO PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Meeting of New Society Called for Aug. 26 at Mt. Sterling.

The Negro Press Association, which was organized in Louisville June 9, and adjourned to meet in Mt. Sterling some time in August, subject to the call of the president, has been called to meet August 26. The object of the association will be thoroughly set forth in the resolutions, which will be adopted at the coming meeting. The association will give a public entertainment at the courthouse at night, at which time the following programme will be given:

- Welcome Address—John C. Wood, Mt. Sterling.
- Response—The Rev. L. G. Jordan, Louisville.
- "The Negro Politician," J. E. Wood, of Danville.
- "Where Are We At," C. C. Monroe, of Lexington.
- "The Preacher," the Rev. S. L. M. Francis, of Henderson.
- "Our Safeguard," Julia Young, of Louisville.
- "The Negro Newspaper," G. T. Berry, of Owensboro.
- "Our Greatest Need," W. H. Lavelle, of Princeton.
- "The Republican Party," Dr. E. E. Underwood.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, the Heart or the Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by F. C. Daerson.

Last Confederate Congressman Dead.

Hiram P. Bell, next to last surviving member of the Confederate Congress, and noted throughout Georgia for his statesmanship and legal ability, died at Atlanta, Ga., Friday, aged 80 years.

Col. Bell had been a Colonel in the Confederate army, a member of the secession convention and the Confederate Congress, United States Congressman, and served in both branches of the Legislature.

Mr. Sam C. Patrick, of Breathitt, has been nominated by the Republicans for State Senator. The district is composed of the counties of Lee, Breathitt and Magoffin and has a Republican majority.

A Calf Freak.

In 1905 J. M. Pieratt, merchant of Ezel, Ky., bought at the R. B. Young short horn sale a fine Duchess Crazs heifer. On July 13th, 1907, she dropped her second calf, by Young's bull. This calf is first-class in form, size, health, etc. The only peculiarity is that it is without hair, except around each ankle, about one inch of tip of tail and a few in each ear. The calf has been sun-burnt and peeled off.

An old established College. Ideal location. Strong faculty. Refined, cultured community, free from vices of a city. Just the place for the best results from home-like environment for your children.

From Far Away Mission Field.

Grindewald, Switzerland, July 30, 1907.

My Dear Bro. Heiden:

That was real news of you to think of me and send a post card with so much compressed news. It was good to know I was not entirely forgotten. You, perhaps, will be surprised to get a letter from this unheard-of place. We had to leave Rome on April 10th in search of health. Just one year ago day after to-morrow I got up early in the morning and went upon the flat roof of the house near Rome and walked up and down alone and fought out the battle, and even found in my mind the cablegram to Dr. Wallingham announcing the death of my wife; but God was good to me and spared her, but some two weeks later took our darling little Geraldine. Then began a long year of battle with the Roman malaria. Five of us have it to this day. We are holding it down with large and regular doses of quinine. We are hoping this will give the Swiss air a chance to kill these seemingly immortal microbes. We are better now, though Harrison, ten years old, had fever two days ago. Mrs. Gill, at last, looks herself again. It took her a solid year to get her normal strength and flesh, though she still has the fever germs, as we all have. We will have to stay here in the mountain air till the end of October, when we hope to return to Rome.

Of course we have heard the shocking news of the death of Dr. Eaton. A great and mighty leader has fallen. I pray that all hand feeling may be buried in his grave. Just as the North and South clasped hands over the grave of McKinley, so I pray that the Baptist hosts of Kentucky may hush their differences in silence, and with sincere, fraternal love clasp hands across his grave in covenant for mighty undertakings for the kingdom of God in Kentucky.

We in distant parts cannot lose our warmest interest in everything that concerns the home land. We are happy to hear of the prosperity of your dear family. Years roll on but memory never ages. The happy days I've spent in your home are young as yesterday. Mrs. Gill and I have waded through deep waters since we saw you last; but "God's in His heaven—all's right with the world." We send you and yours love in general and particular. And, if any friend or fellow-worker of other days mention me, just give him my love and salutations.

Yours affectionately,

EVERETTE GILL.

We have assumed the liberty to copy this communication from Bro. Gill, hopeful of enlisting continued sympathy and active co-operation in foreign missions. It modestly and meagerly relates hardships our missionaries must endure, that we may be obedient to the Gospel commission. Bro. Gill was a former pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church, now in charge of the foreign work at Rome, Italy, sent out by the Southern Baptist Convention, and who is remembered in sympathy and love.

I'll stop your pain here. To show you first—before you spend a penny—what my Pink Pain Tablets can do, I will mail you free, a Trial Package of them—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Period pains, etc., are due alone to blood congestion. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets simply kill pain by coaxing away the unnatural blood pressure. That's all. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by F. C. Daerson.

Big Events in Lexington.

The coming of Secretary Taft on August 22 will bring a large crowd. The Secretary of War is opening his campaign for the Presidential nomination.

On August 31 the Democratic party will open its State campaign with a great meeting September 14th the first fall race meeting of many years begins.

Beginning October 8 the meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association will be held.

All the Colleges open early in September.

LAND STOCK AND CROP.

A. B. Anderson sold a mule for $200.

Lee Banister sold his 1906 crop of tobacco, 10,000 pounds, for 13c, straight.

J. C. McClure sold a harness horse, 17 hands high for $160, no other considerations.

Jack Turner, of Judy, sold to Breck Gillaspie a horse for $200 and bought of A. Johnson a mare for $210.

S. R. Burris, of Little Rock, sold 50 125-lb. hogs, to be delivered September 1, to Boardman & Whaley, at $5.60.

W. R. Ewing, of Winchester, formerly of Powell, sold his farm of 66 acres to Mr. Grimes, of Jessamine, for $5,500.

Ed. Clark, of Little Rock, sold 28 head of 1250-lb. cattle to Boardman & Whaley, to be delivered in October, at $4.50.

Mr. Kirk, of West Virginia, shipped a load of draft horses purchased in this county at a cost of an average of near $175 per head.

Public Sale.

Friday, August 23, 1907, at the log house on West Main street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., at 2 p. m., I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, the following personal property:

Two Milch Cows—one a Hereford, one a Jersey.

One Horse, "Skuball."

Three Bed Room Sets, Hat Rack, Sofa, Lounge, one Mahogany Wardrobe, Tables, Mattresses, Carpets, Window Shades, Lace Curtains and Poles, Chairs, Range, Stoves, Chandeliers, Lamps, Large Mirror, Jewelry Counter, Acetate Gas Machine, lot of Scrap Iron, and many other articles of Household and Kitchen Furniture too numerous to mention.

At the same time and place will sell the Log House and Lot, the late residence of R. A. Mitchell.

Terms—Cash for all personal property. The house and lot will be half cash and balance in six months.

H. CLAY MCKEE, Agent and Attorney for S. D. Mitchell.

Lexington Fair Premiums.

Among the premiums awarded from this section were:

Colt of 1906—Wyatt & Thompson second, $15.

SWINE.

Boar two years and over—Hughes Atkinson 1st and 2nd.

Boar 1 year and over—Hughes Atkinson, 1st.

Boar 6 mos. and over—Hughes Atkinson, 1st and 2nd.

Sows 2 years and over—Hughes Atkinson, 1st and 2nd.

Sow 1 year and over—Hughes Atkinson, 1st, 2nd, 3rd.

Sow 6 mos. and over—Hughes Atkinson, 1st, 2nd, 3rd.

Sow under six months—Hughes Atkinson, 1st and 2nd.

In herds of swine he took 5 premiums; in groups 1 first; in sweepstakes 2 firsts.

Best stallion or mare to produce carriage horses, Jas. R. Magowan's Glorious Red Cloud won 2nd prize.

Best two stallions, four years and over, the get of same stallion, J. Gano Johnson won with Golden King and Cloud King, by Wilson's King.

Mr. J. Gano Johnson is the proud recipient of a check for $1,000 representing the premium awarded his great horses, Golden King and Cloud King, four years old the get of one sire. The competition was decidedly sharp and these two great horses won flatly and purely on merit. This decision makes Mr. Johnson easily a leader among breeders of horses of this high class.

In the 5-gaited ring the former champion, Star McDonald, was defeated by Dandy Jim, the great son of McDonald Chief, owned by Wyatt & Thompson, of this city; also won in Breeders' Class and championship for best stallion, mare or gelding any age, and is pronounced by competent judges to be the finest and greatest five-gaited stallion in America.

JUDGE MOODY

Declines to Take Feud Cases Away from Sandy Hook.

Henry Watterson's Speech Censured.

The annual county convention of the Sunday schools representing all the denominations of Harrison county was held at Pointdexter. The following resolution was adopted with great enthusiasm:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that that part of the address delivered by Henry Watterson at the Lexington Blue Grass Fair, relating to the temperance movement in Kentucky is unworthy of one who has been regarded as the greatest editor in our Southland; that it is illogical, false in its premises and purile in the extreme, that it is not, in any sense, the sentiment of the best people of our State.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. Albert Bourne on Thursday morning entertained informally in honor of Miss Amanda Thomson and her guest.
We acknowledge receipt of an invitation to a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Day and Miss Day, of Winchester, for Thursday evening, August 22.
I dined out. It was a delightful meal. The roast was as tender as a fat spring chicken, and when I asked where they got it the answer was, from Harry Linthicum, the corner grocer.
The second session of Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute will open Tuesday, September 10, in the same building as last session. The building will be put in good, comfortable condition, and will be used till better accommodations can be secured. Grounds for military drills and athletic games will be rented and ample provision will be made for all helpful outdoor games. A faculty of five teachers, thoroughly competent and efficient, shows Prof. Cord's confidence and faith in Mt. Sterling as a place for a strong, high-grade institution of learning, and it is hoped that our citizens will patronize this school most liberally. Pupils will be fitted for the best colleges and universities, and individual attention will be given all who enroll. See announcement of the Music Department of the school in this issue.

RELIGIOUS

The Saints' meeting at Spruce has closed.
Rev. Garland Riggan has become pastor of the Louisa Baptist Church.
Rev. Ben Perry Weaver has accepted the charge of the Mayslick Baptist Church.
Kentucky Synod, Northern Presbyterian, will meet at Owensboro, October 22.
The National Baptist Convention will meet in Washington, D. C., September 11-16.
The new Union Church at Donaldson will be dedicated the fifth Sunday in September.
Bishop Morrison will hold Kentucky Conference at Frankfort, beginning September 11.
R. G. Shierr, pastor of Jellico, Tenn., Christian Church, will preach here on Sunday morning.
J. W. McGarvey, Jr., will begin a meeting at Cambridge Christian Church on Monday night, August 26.
Rev. G. A. Joplin will conduct prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, subject The Strait Gate.
Gov. Charles E. Hughes, of New York, has declined, for want of time, to address the Baptist Laymen's Society of Kentucky.
Rev. C. H. Branch gives notice that he will offer his resignation as pastor of the Maxwell Presbyterian Church, Lexington, in order to accept a call extended him by the Hopkinsville Church.
Rev. Carey Moore and wife, of Fulton, Ill., were here Sunday, he preaching for the Presbyterian congregation in the morning and at union service at night. The people very much pleased with his efforts.
Dr. W. F. Lloyd, pastor of the Union Methodist Church, Sixth and Broadway, Louisville, will, on account of continual ill health, ask the presiding Bishop of the Louisville Church, to give him lighter work.
Rev. Geo. A. Joplin is here from Ludlow for a few days. He is highly pleased with his work, which is prosperous under his ministry. From here he goes to Louisville and preaches at the Covenant Presbyterian church. Thence to Madisonville, Indiana, where he delivers two addresses before the State Sunday school convention.
There is some talk of Mr. Joe H. Eaton, only son of the lamented Dr. T. T. Eaton, now of Denver, Colorado, becoming successor to his father as editor of the Western Recorder. This would be a capital idea. Mr. Eaton is a fine, resourceful writer, powerful in argument sound in doctrines. We would be pleased to see him at the head of this great religious journal.
Rev. Harry C. Rogers, of Fort Madison, Iowa, who was born and reared in this city, will preach in the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath morning and will also preach at the union service that evening. His many friends will be glad to hear him again in his native city and no doubt will turn out in large numbers at both services named. A special and most hearty invitation is extended to the young women and men of his age, playmates, schoolmates and chums to hear Mr. Rogers.

At the Sunday School conference at Corinth on August 8, J. T. Highland, superintendent of the Somerset Sunday School, expressed these thoughts, which are worthy of thoughtful consideration:
Why Join the Sunday School?—Every person should join some Sunday School; not only church members, but all people. Why join the Sunday School?—Because it is a move that appeals to heart, mind and soul. To save the children is the noblest and grandest work in which men and women can engage. The best men of the age, in the church and out of church, are engaged in Sunday School work. The Sunday School enlists the best workers in the most profitable enterprise that can be found. It is hard to argue a question when there is none to dispute it. No sensible man or woman can hesitate about bringing children under the influence of Bible teaching and no one should hesitate to engage in it; I assume that the Sunday School has the good will of everybody; and let us devise plans to get not only more children into Sunday School, but get all the children under Sunday School influence. There is no grander field for doing good than is to be found here, and none where such apparent results are given the laborer. All can be benefited, old and young, by attending. Why join Sunday School?—That you may develop your own spirituality. That you may have the pleasure of doing something for your neighborhood by developing and moulding the character of others around you. By joining the Sunday School you get a great amount of Bible knowledge, and knowledge is an accumulation of facts gathered from generations of men; therefore knowledge is the richest inheritance handed to us; then get knowledge, men and women, that you may make the world better by reason of you having lived in it. Be a member of a Sunday School. You cannot afford to stand aloof; you are not living up to your duty as a neighbor, or doing your duty to your Maker. God does not and cannot approve of you in such an attitude. By joining the Sunday School you hear something of the ways by which a poor sinner, struggling with the ills and sorrows of this present life, may be able to reach and enjoy the blessings of a better land.

T. F. Rogers wants his friends to remember that he has a large Insurance Agency that furnishes good indemnity against fire, tornado, accident, sickness, also life insurance.
Judge William H. Taft will speak in Lexington on the 22nd, and a large audience is expected to hear him. The negroes most likely will be scarce for they are not pleased with some of his frank declarations.
Will Clifford, negro, who confessed to having assaulted Mrs. Mary Cowan and threw her body into the river near Maple, Ky., was lynched.

THE SICK

Mrs. J. B. Cecil is sick.
David Dale, beyond Judy, has been sick for several days.
Geo. W. Downs, of Means, who has been quite sick, is improving.
Mrs. Stella Cockrell who has been real sick is very much better.
Mrs. M. C. McKee who has been seriously sick is very much improved.
Mrs. Obe Gatson and child and brother, all in one home at North Middletown, have typhoid fever.
Richard, son of W. Q. Stephens and wife, of Shreveport, La., was taken with diphtheria in this city last Sunday, but is getting along nicely now.
If you have any city property for rent or sale, list same with the live agency of T. F. Rogers. He will do the balance.

BIRTHS.

For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep, had no appetite; frequent vertigo, and a feeling of a bad dizzy spell. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health.
